 KW/h estimated on 8 hours per day for 1 year

Based on National Average

The following Formula can be used to figure out the Operating Cost Lighting

$$\frac{\text{Total Watts} \times \text{Hours of use}}{1000} = \text{Kilowatt Hours} \times 0.125 (\text{National Avg. per KW/h}) = \text{Operating Cost}$$

To figure out the total amount of Amps your application is pulling use the following formula:

$$\frac{\text{Total Number of bulbs} \times \text{Bulb Wattage}}{120 (\text{Voltage})} = \text{Total Amps}$$
